

Document DNA – Electronic Air Files

DocDNA is an electronic imaging system owned and operated by HOV Services (formerly Lason Systems Inc.). The State of Iowa has contracted with HOV Services for its electronic records management system projects. Currently, the Air Quality Bureau has utilized DocDNA to hold records from a few of our most frequently accessed records series, such as construction permits, inspection reports, minor source emission inventories, stack test reports, correspondence letters, etc. For a complete list of Document Types available in DocDNA, refer to the index list at the end of this guide. Documents created prior to January 2005 should be available on DocDNA. If you are looking for a specific document in DocDNA and can't find it, please contact Jim Craig in Records at 515-281-6202 or james.craig@dnr.iowa.gov.

Searching for files:

Once you have logged on, click "Air New", this will take you to the search screen.

If search criterion is unknown, leave the search criteria fields blank and click "Search".

Below is a list of indexes that can be used for searching. It is recommended that Plant Name NOT be used for most searches due to possible name changes.

Plant #	<input type="text"/>
Plant Name	<input type="text"/>

Examples:

a) Example #1

I'm looking for a final permit, but I don't know the plant number or company's name.

- ii) Click on the dropdown
- iii) Choose Construction Permit

Next go to Permit and enter in the permit number XX-a-XXX (i.e. 99-A-100)

- iv) Go to Document Type
- v) Click on the dropdown
- vi) Choose CP-FINAL PERMIT
- vii) Click on Search

Document Type	<input type="text" value="CP-FINAL PERMIT"/>
Document Date [mm/dd/yyyy]	<input type="text"/>  To <input type="text"/>
Notes	<input type="text"/>

c) Example #3

Now let's use a wild card.

I don't know the plant number. I do know that the county is Adair. The permit begins with 99.

Wildcard symbol is an asterisk (), and can only be used as a suffix (i.e. William and not *William)

- i) Go to County
- ii) Enter Adair
- iii) Next, go to Permit
- iv) Enter in 99*
- v) Click on Search

NOTE: Wildcards cannot be used in date fields, document type, notes and permit type/work activity. Be careful when using wildcards because it is a powerful tool and can lead to misleading searches. The more criteria you enter, the better the search results you will receive.
